ARTICLE X

DOCUMENT RETENTION POLICY

Adapted September 19, 2016

10.01 Purpose

The purpose of this document retention policy is establishing standards for document integrity, retention, and destruction and to promote the proper treatment of Asperger Works, Inc. records.

10.02 Policy

Section 1. General Guidelines. Records should not be kept if they are no longer needed for the operation of the business or required by law. Unnecessary records should be eliminated from the files. The cost of maintaining records is an expense which can grow unreasonably if good housekeeping is not performed. A mass of records also makes it more difficult to find pertinent records.

From time to time, Asperger Works, Inc. may establish retention or destruction policies or schedules for specific categories of records in order to ensure legal compliance, and also to accomplish other objectives, such as preserving intellectual property and cost management. Several categories of documents that warrant special consideration are identified below. While minimum retention periods are established, the retention of the documents identified below and of documents not included in the identified categories should be determined primarily by the application of the general guidelines affecting document retention, as well as the exception for litigation relevant documents and any other pertinent factors.

Section 2. Exception for Litigation Relevant Documents. Asperger Works, Inc. expects all officers, directors, and employees to comply fully with any published records retention or destruction policies and schedules, provided that all officers, directors, and employees should note the following general exception to any stated destruction schedule: If you believe, or the Asperger Works, Inc. informs you, that corporate records are relevant to litigation, or potential litigation (i.e. a dispute that could result in litigation), then you must preserve those records until it is determined that the records are no longer needed. That exception supersedes any previously or subsequently established destruction schedule for those records.

10.03. Minimum Retention Periods for Specific Categories

(a) Corporate Documents. Corporate records include the corporation's Articles of Incorporation, By-Laws and IRS Form 1023 and Application for Exemption. Corporate records should be retained permanently. IRS regulations require that the Form 1023 be available for public inspection upon request.

- (b) Tax Records. Tax records include, but may not be limited to, documents concerning payroll, expenses, proof of contributions made by donors, accounting procedures, and other documents concerning the corporation's revenues. Tax records should be retained for at least seven years from the date of filing the applicable return.
- (c) Employment Records/Personnel Records. State and federal statutes require the corporation to keep certain recruitment, employment and personnel information. The corporation should also keep personnel files that reflect performance reviews and any complaints brought against the corporation or individual employees under applicable state and federal statutes. The corporation should also keep in the employee's personnel file all final memoranda and correspondence reflecting performance reviews and actions taken by or against personnel. Employment applications should be retained for three years. Retirement and pension records should be kept permanently. Other employment and personnel records should be retained for seven years.
- (d) Board and Board Committee Materials. Meeting minutes should be retained in perpetuity in the corporation's minute book. A clean copy of all other Board and Board Committee materials should be kept for no less than three years by the corporation.
- (e) Press Releases/Public Filings. The corporation should retain permanent copies of all press releases and publicly filed documents under the theory that the corporation should have its own copy to test the accuracy of any document a member of the public can theoretically produce against the corporation.
- (f) Legal Files. Legal counsel should be consulted to determine the retention period of particular documents, but legal documents should generally be maintained for a period of ten years.
- (g) Marketing and Sales Documents. The corporation should keep final copies of marketing and sales documents for the same period of time it keeps other corporate files, generally three years. An exception to the three-year policy may be sales invoices, contracts, leases, licenses, and other legal documentation. These documents should be kept for at least three years beyond the life of the agreement.
- (h) Development/Intellectual Property and Trade Secrets. Development documents are often subject to intellectual property protection in their final form (e.g., patents and copyrights). The documents detailing the development process are often also of value to the corporation and are protected as a trade secret where the corporation:
  - (i) derives independent economic value from the secrecy of the information; and
  - (ii) has taken affirmative steps to keep the information confidential.

The corporation should keep all documents designated as containing trade secret information for at least the life of the trade secret.

- (i) Contracts. Final, execution copies of all contracts entered into by the corporation should be retained. The corporation should retain copies of the final contracts for at least three years beyond the life of the agreement, and longer in the case of publicly filed contracts.
- (j) Correspondence. Unless correspondence falls under another category listed elsewhere in this policy, correspondence should generally be saved for two years.

- (k) Banking and Accounting. Accounts payable ledgers and schedules should be kept for seven years. Bank reconciliations, bank statements, deposit slips and checks (unless for important payments and purchases) should be kept for three years. Any inventories of products, materials, and supplies and any invoices should be kept for seven years.
- (l) Insurance. Expired insurance policies, insurance records, accident reports, claims, etc. should be kept permanently.
- (m) Audit Records. External audit reports should be kept permanently. Internal audit reports should be kept for three years.

10.04. Electronic Mail. E-mail that needs to be saved should be either:

- (a) printed in hard copy and kept in the appropriate file; or
- (b) downloaded to a computer file and kept electronically or on disk as a separate file. The retention period depends upon the subject matter of the e-mail, as covered elsewhere in this policy.

APPENDIX II

TRAVEL REIMBURSEMENT POLICY AND BUSINESS EXPENSE GUIDELINES

Adapted on July 2, 2016

1.00 Background

The Board of Directors of Asperger Works, Inc. (hence referred to as the Board) recognizes that board members and employees of Asperger Works, Inc. (hence referred to as Personnel) may be required to travel or incur other expenses from time-to-time to conduct Asperger Works, Inc. (hence referred to as Asperger Works) business and to further the mission of our non-profit organization. The purpose of this Policy is to ensure that (a) adequate cost controls are in place, (b) travel and other expenditures are appropriate, and (c) to provide a uniform and consistent approach for the timely reimbursement of authorized expenses incurred by Personnel. It is the policy of Asperger Works to reimburse only reasonable and necessary expenses actually incurred by Personnel.

Our policy is to reimburse individuals for approved, reasonable, proper, and necessary travel expenses incurred in conjunction with activities pre-approved by the Board. All Asperger Works travelers are expected to minimize the cost of travel as much as possible or reasonable.

2.00 Purpose

Asperger Works appreciates the efforts of those who travel on Asperger Works business. Personnel should be comfortable while traveling, understand Asperger Works' travel and business expense guidelines, and obtain reimbursement quickly. At the same time, it is necessary to keep travel and business expenses within reasonable limits and to follow consistent reimbursement procedures. The reasons for the Travel and Business Expense Guidelines are:

2.01 To assist Asperger Works board members and employees of Asperger Works, Inc. (hence referred to as Personnel) throughout the travel and business expense process

2.02 To provide the Asperger Works community with a clear and consistent understanding of the organization's travel guidelines and reimbursement procedures

2.03 To ensure that Personnel expenditures are properly documented in accordance with Internal Revenue Service regulations, federal grant and contract requirements, and organization

2.04 To set reasonable standards that permit Asperger Works Personnel to make arrangements for transportation, accommodations, and related expenditures efficiently and in a cost-effective manner

3.00 IRS Regulations Regarding Travel Expenses

The Internal Revenue Service (the IRS) regulations state that ordinary and necessary business related expenses are deductible and reimbursable. The IRS defines ordinary as "common in your field of trade, business or profession"; and necessary as "helpful and appropriate for your business." The IRS states that travel, meal, and hotel expenses cannot be "lavish or extravagant." The IRS requires all businesses (for profit and nonprofit) to reimburse employees for travel expenses under "an accountable plan." For a plan to be deemed "accountable":

3.01 There must be a business reason for the expenses

3.02 The Personnel must substantiate the expenses

3.03 The Personnel must return to the employer any amount advanced in excess of the substantiated expenses on a timely basis (this would not refer to Asperger Works as we will not be making any advance payments)

4.00 Necessity of Travel

In determining the reasonableness and necessity of travel expenses, Personnel and the person authorizing the travel shall consider the ways in which Asperger Works will benefit from the travel and weigh those benefits against the anticipated costs of the travel. The same considerations shall be taken into account in deciding whether a particular individual's presence on a trip is necessary. In determining whether the benefits to Asperger Works outweigh the cost, less expensive alternatives (such as participation by telephone or video conferencing) or the availability of local programs or training opportunities shall be considered.

5.00 Use of Personal Vehicles – Mileage Reimbursement

Travelers may use their private vehicles for business purposes if doing so saves time or is less expensive than renting a car, taking a taxi, or using alternative transportation. Asperger Works will reimburse the use of personal vehicles at the rate of forty-five cents ($0.45) per mile (since July, 2011 according to Massachusetts Administration and Finance Regulations). To receive reimbursement, traveler must submit a detailed report containing number of miles traveled, departure and arrival times for each trip, and purpose of the trip.

6.00 Automobile Rental

Automobiles may be rented only when the cost advantages are clearly justified (i.e. the cost of the rental car would be less than using taxis. Travelers are expected to use one of the lower-cost (economy) car rental firms (free upgrades are allowed). All rental car receipts and fuel received by the traveler must be submitted with the expense report.

7.00 Other Ground Transportation

When other forms of ground transportation (including transfers and transportation to and from the airport) are used, receipts must be submitted for reimbursement. Requests should include details of the point of departure and the point of arrival for each trip for which reimbursement is requested.

8.00 Lodging Accommodations

Lodging accommodations that meet Asperger Works' business needs and offer good value must be utilized. Lodging is to be economy class with a standard of two to a room, if there are multiple travelers. Those wishing a single room (or plan on sharing a room with a companion who is not a budgeted Asperger Works traveler, such as a spouse) will be required to reimburse Asperger Works 50% of the actual room cost. Additional cost of room upgrades (e.g. suite, executive floor, room with a view, etc.) is non-reimbursable. All lodging receipts received by the traveler must be submitted with the expense report.

9.00 Meal Reimbursement

Reimbursement for meals may be requested in those cases where meal costs are not already included as part of the accommodation expense.
